Wm. D. Wright Elected Commander of Legion

At its regular meeting last Friday evening, Grenada Post, American Legion elected the officers to serve for the year beginning in August as follows: William D. Wright, Commander; J. N. Hodges, Vice-Commander; Clifton C. Hamby, Adjutant; G. E. Wiley, Chaplain; and W. W. Whitaker, Service Officer; J. D. Edwards, Sgt. at Arms.

The ladies of the Auxiliary served delightful refreshments to the men and James Thomas, this post's representative at Boys State held recently in Jackson, spoke briefly of his trip and later rendered several numbers on the piano.

Chicken Barbeque

Mrs. Tillman, former Grenadian, now residing in Winona, was hostess at a delightful chicken barbeque on Tuesday night of this week. Attending were Mesdames Morgan and Ford as chaperones and student nurses, Misses Johnson, Jacobs, Hill, Holcomb, Merriweather, McGinnis, Pittman, Ward and Arrington. Others included were Dale Harper, Fred Spain, Undine Brewer, Nancy Nelson Granberry and Charles Warner, who is an interne at Winona Hospital.

Seed Dealers and AAA Committee to Meet

The County AAA office today announced that a meeting of all local seed dealers and the county AAA committee will be held at the Agricultural Building on July 25 at 9 a. m. for the purpose of discussing the distribution of winter legume seed as conservation materials this year.

Heretofore, Austrian winter peas and hairy vetch seed have been made available through the County AAA Office. This year's vetch and pea seed may be handled through local seed dealers, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made, Mr. Hays, county administrative officer said.

But regardless of the plan to be used, the county agent, county administrative officer and county committee join in asking farmers to immediately file their requests for vetch and pea seed as conservation materials.

The agricultural leaders explained that because of limited supplies of vetch and pea seed which are available, and the probability that transportation facilities later may be overtaxed it is desirable that producers submit their orders for seed as soon as possible.

The county office will assist farmers in preparing their orders for vetch and pea seed on the proper forms and in conformance with the regulations. An immediate and constant flow of orders from farmers will facilitate the necessary clerical work in the county office, as well as the movement of seed supplies, the administrative officer said.

Explaining what is meant by the term "conservation materials," Administrative Officer Hays said that not only vetch and pea seed can be obtained as conservation materials but phosphate, basic slag, limestone and other materials, likewise. Under the AAA program these materials can be provided for the farmer without any out-of-pocket cash payment. The materials are delivered to the farmer on his application and the cost is later deducted from any conservation payment which he may have earned. It is a form of credit without the payment of any interest.

This phase of the agricultural conservation program has made it possible for many producers to obtain winter legume seed and other materials who otherwise would not have been able to pay cash for them and the plan has resulted in a substantial increase in acreage planted to winter legumes, and in carrying out of other soil-building practices.

All seedmen desiring to furnish vetch and Austrian pea seed as conservation materials to farmers of the county should contact the county AAA office and plan to attend the meeting for this county.

Grenadian's Kin Victim

News was received early Tuesday morning by Mrs. George Grant to the effect that her brother-in-law, Mr. J. L. Nickle, of Batesville, was killed when his car was struck by a truck at the Batesville crossing. Further details were lacking.

Golf Meet Sunday

A golf tournament in which about ninety golfers from Grenada, Yazoo City, Lexington, and Durant will be held in Grenada Sunday beginning at one o'clock and will continue until early evening after which a buffet supper will be served the guests.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Chamberlain, of Columbia, are spending their vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Chamberlain, and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Trussell, of Gore Springs.

Mrs. Leslie Blinham, of Spring Hill, spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Ellen Moore, of Hattiesburg.

Miss Dick Jones' two guests last Friday were Messrs. Harry Faust and Jack Yates, of Hattiesburg.

Fisher says they are sweet and everyone who was ever at Grenada Hospital agrees with him and me.

PRESBYTERIAN CIRCLE MEETS

One of the Circles of the Presbyterian Church met in the home of Mrs. J. L. Cooley, Jr. on Monday afternoon. Mrs. Cowles Horton taught the Bible lesson and Mrs. Harry Adams' talk was based on the life of Elias.

After the program was ended, Mrs. Cooley served delicious sandwiches, cookies, chocolate covered mints and iced Coca-Cola. Twenty members and one guest were present.

General Marshall Writes Col. Hoffa About Camp

The following letter dated July 3, was received by Col. W. B. Hoffa from General Marshall, Chief of Staff, with reference to the location of an army camp in this area:

"I have read your letter of June 28 in which you outline the suitability of the area in the vicinity of Grenada, Mississippi as a possible camp site."

"The requirements for camp sites for the 1,000,000 man army have been met. However as a matter of fact, range planning the War Department has made investigations in many areas to determine suitable location for additional camp sites should the necessity therefor arise."

"A report on the area in the vicinity of Grenada, Mississippi has been received and is now being studied in the War Department. You may rest assured that the report will receive full consideration."

On Know Mississippi Better Train

Grenadians enjoying the pleasure of going to the Northeastern part of the United States, to Canada and a return trip through the Central part of the country, include the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Perry, Sr., Miss Louise Perry, Mrs. Lizzie Brown, Mrs. Rogers Pleasant and Mrs. Blanche Martingley. They left Grenada Saturday.

North Mississippi Youth Caravan

On Sunday, July 20th, a Youth Caravan will begin a week's program at the Grenada Methodist Church.

The caravan will be composed of Miss Eleanor Walters, Adult Counselor of Gunnison, Miss. Charles Buck Jr., Fairfield, Ala., Minnie McFerrin, Ada, Okla., Mary Nell Bailey, La Grange, Ga., and Shirley K. Robinson, of Golden, Texas.

The caravan will conduct religious services daily and teach classes in Personal Religion and Evangelism, World Friendship, Community Service and Recreation. Forums will be conducted also.

The services will be interesting to youths and adults. All the Young People of the town and the nearby towns are invited.

Engineers Submit Report On Municipal Plant

The F. P. Fuller Co., a St. Louis engineering firm employed to make a survey of the power situation and to furnish the city council with estimates of the cost of a suitable municipal generating station, made its report in writing to the council Monday night. This report will be published in this newspaper probably next week. The report was referred to the Water and Light Committee, probably for decent interest with flowers and soft music and a copy thereof to the citizens committee which was requested to render to the council an unanimous opinion within sixty days.

ENTERTAIN FELLOW MEMBERS

Mr. and Mrs. George Chamberlain entertained Mr. Chamberlain's fellow board members, Dave Williams, Burnis Strider, Jim Elliott and Pritch Horton, and Messrs. John and Rice Pressgrove, Sam Mims and Butch McKnight at an old fashioned country dinner in the hospitable and comfortable country home of the hosts last Tuesday. Ask Sam about that fine ham.

Grenadians Injured In Car Wreck

Mrs. Harry Cory (nee Betsy Neely), her two young children, and her sister, Miss Frances Neely, and their guest and friend, Miss Sue Rowell, received injuries and bruises of a minor nature on Wednesday afternoon when their car (the Neely car) skidded on the wet pavement, enroute to Grenada from New Orleans. The accident occurred between Vaiden and Winona.

Miss Frances Neely sustained an injured knee, Miss Rowell was bruised, Mrs. Cory received a head injury and the two babies were injured. They were taken to the home of Mrs. McGowan in Winona, who is a sister of the late Mrs. E. C. Neely. The Rowells and Mrs. Susan Horton went to Winona, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jones, and brought Sue home. The car was completely wrecked.

Aluminum Salvage In Grenada July 21-29

His Honor, Mayor R. W. Sharp, and County Chairman, John Pressgrove, most earnestly ask that Grenada and Grenada county people cooperate with the committee in donating discarded articles made of aluminum—the precious metal now so essential in the production of war planes—during the National Aluminum Collection, July 21 to 29.

The ever useful Boy Scouts will call at your home sometime during the collection period for aluminum articles. Should you be overlooked, you are requested to deliver your contribution to the City Hall or to call City Hall asking that a Scout be sent to your home.

B. & P. W. Club Meets With Mrs. Clyde Best at Scobey

Tuesday evening, at 7:30 July 8th, members of the Grenada Business & Professional Women's Club assembled on the lovely lawn of Mrs. Clyde Best at Scobey for their regular meeting.

At the business session a resolution was presented by Mrs. A. L. Trotman resolving that members of the Grenada club go on record as being ready to serve the civilian defense council, both as an organization and through its individual members, and that a copy of resolution be sent to chairman of the Grenada County Council Defense unit.

Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed. Mrs. Best assisted by Miss Annie Bett Geeslin and Miss Eva Mae Best served delicious peach ice cream and cake.

The next meeting will be held Aug. 6th in the lovely garden of Mrs. Grover Long with Mrs. Beatrice Beard as co-hostess.

Announcement

Rev. E. L. Malone, Jr., rector of St. Paul's at Woodville, will conduct services at All Saints' Sunday, July 20, 7:30 and 11:00 o'clock.

Misses Peggy Horn and Eleanor Green are spending ten days at Camp Rockbrook, near Macon, Miss.

Civilian Registration

Uncle Sam desires to take stock of the capabilities of all his sons and daughters through a Civilian Registration to be held Friday and Saturday of this week. Details of where, how and when to register are contained elsewhere in this issue.

Everyone is "good" for something, and Uncle Sam wants to know what each one is "good" for for Uncle senses the probability that the time is soon coming when everyone capable of doing anything toward national defense will be needed to do his or her part—and, hence, the registration of civilians.

All persons between the ages of 16 and 65, male or female, white or black, are urged to register. There is nothing obligatory about registering nor, when registered, is there any obligation, other than that due his country by a patriotic citizen, to do what Uncle wants done. This is purely a voluntary proposition. If you lived in Russia, Germany, Italy or other dictator-governed government country, you would not be ASKED to do, but you would be ORDERED to do, and therein lies the great difference in our country and those countries. It might be well for us, when registering, to stop a moment and thank God that we do live in a free country; and it might be well for us to stop another moment and think how precious is this freedom and how this freedom might be lost—like the freedom of many other free countries WAS lost—if everyone does not freely do his, or her part in this, a great national as well as world wide emergency.

May Success Attend His Efforts

On a recent trip to Washington, Mr. Allen, the C. of C. Secretary, found out that whereas the Secretary of War had approved the Grenada area as a site for an army camp, General Marshall, his technical adviser, had turned thumbs down on proposals to locate camps near small towns where recreational facilities for the soldiers were scarce.

Mr. Allen hit upon the idea of seeking to overcome the objections of General Marshall by showing him that both Memphis and Jackson would provide suitable areas for recreation of the soldiers that Grenada could not handle, that the huge lake at Sardis would be an ideal spot for aquatic sports, that other lakes located in State parks would be available, and last but not least that the Illinois Central Railroad and the Tri States bus company could provide cheap and adequate transportation for week-end trips of the soldiers. Pursuant to that plan of overcoming the objections of General Marshall, Mr. Allen has secured promises of cooperation from the Memphis and Jackson leaders, from Governor Johnson and Major General Grayson, and left last Thursday for Chicago to consult with the president of the I. C. System about low round-trip fares for soldiers going to Jackson and Memphis. While we have not been advised of the result of his consultation with the I. C. executive, we feel that he will secure definite commitments from him to haul soldiers by the train load for ridiculously low fares. The I. C. could afford to haul them almost free and to lose thereby for it would gain back its losses incurred from passenger traffic and much more by the huge freight charges upon goods and materials necessary in construction and maintenance of an army camp located on its lines.

May success attend Mr. Allen's efforts when he presents his case to General Marshall.

— UNDER THE MAGNOLIA TREE —

By Herbert B. Allen

Lafitte, Louisiana, July 4, 1941
On this Fourth of July, I am writing in a perfect environment in which to consider such personalities as Hitler and Stalin. For Lafitte, Louisiana, was the rendezvous of that famous pirate Monsieur Lafitte, who terrorized the West Indies and the Gulf of Mexico in the not so long ago.

One trait in particular distinguishes Lafitte from his modern counterparts, Hitler and Stalin. Lafitte was an acknowledged pirate. He made no pretensions of legalizing his buccaneering, murdering and pilfering. Nor did he maintain the semblance of a de facto government; send ambassadors abroad to spy upon, and to foment revolutions in, friendly countries; sign treaties of friendship and non-aggression; or hide behind pretended political philosophies which merely served as a camouflage behind which to prepare invasions or neighboring nations.

There is said to be honor among thieves, and we gladly render to Lafitte whatever honor he is entitled to receive. We delight to recognize the courage of a man who had the bravado to sail into this southern Louisiana coastal swamp and deliberately invite the murderous onslaughts of the local mosquitos.

Lafitte was known for what he actually was. His hand was criminally raised against men. He did not ridiculously pretend to pose as a national and international Messiah; or as the super brain of a race of super men. May I add, parenthetically, that it appears strange indeed that such a race of superior beings, as the Germans now conceive themselves to be, should require the services of a coterie of such pathological specimens as the Nazi high command, to think for, and to direct them, under penalty of the firing squad, or the concentration camp, for non-compliance.

When Lafitte was alive and operating on the Spanish Main, the vast majority of people were illiterate. The percentage that could read and write was very small. We doubt if ten percent of Americans could write their names, in George Washington's time. That is purely a guess and if any reader has ever seen statistics on our national literacy in colonial days, I would be grateful to be referred to them.

But in the days when I was operating in the intelligence service in Russia, the rate of literacy was just about five percent. Prior to the Bolshevik revolution, nearly fifteen percent of Russians could read and write. The Bolsheviks blotted out the literate classes because they used their intelligence for their personal advancement, and against the national interest. There was much truth in that contention.

While living in Berlin, Hamburg, and Leipzig, a year later, I concluded that Germany had the finest system of education, and the most studious population in the world. I am inclined to think that most people who lived abroad would agree with me regarding the Germany of the 1920's.

Therefore, of the two nations, Germany and Russia, the former highly educated, and the latter highly illiterate, what sort of a case do they make for the utility and value of education the citizens of these two countries both permitted themselves to become the abject slaves of groups of ruthless bloody murderers, that hold Germans and Russians alike in mental and physical straight jackets.

Of the two countries, Germany is the more to be condemned. I do not think anyone who ever saw conditions in pre-war Russia could blame the Russians for the terrible revolution which took place there in 1917-1918. The Russians had nothing to lose—everything to gain by revolution. There was no liberty to lose in Russia. For that matter, there was little actual liberty in Germany. People in those two countries have always been in the habit of obeying commands. They are naturally subservient.

There was no educational system in Czarist Russia, worthy of the name, on which to blame the predicament of the Russian people. But it is a different story with Germany, which had either the finest, or one very close to the finest, in the world. Then how could the German nation be led to acts which have made them a stench in the nostrils of the civilized world.

Hitler did one thing, some years ago, which was then a great puzzle to me. That was when he antagonized the powerful protestant population in Germany, which is the backbone of the military caste. But time and events have answered that enigma. A God fearing man will go to war and fight for his country, or for a cause he can believe in. But there are limits beyond which he will not go.

So in order to accomplish what Hitler had in mind, it was necessary for him to build an army which would stop at nothing. Therefore he must systematically harden German youth, inculcate non-Christian ideals in their minds, and develop and encourage all of those baser traits and instincts in the human race which are the principal causes of the world's ills. The Scottish genius, Robert Burns, had the clearest conception of these woes when he coined the phrase, "MAN'S INHUMANITY TO MAN."

Out here, on this Louisiana bayou, alternately broiling in the sun, and soaking in the rain, one thought is clearly fixed in my consciousness. That kind of intelligence which is purely intellectual, will certainly not cure the world of its maladies. All of the involved theories of economics, the intricate practices of international trade and finance, are but the instruments of a system which holds within its shell the seeds of its own destruction.

Only within the HEART lies the means for the reconciliation of men into some association of brotherhood. In the English speaking world we center these thoughts and aspirations around the teachings of Jesus of Nazareth. Something about the teachings of Jesus grips the heart and the imagination as nothing else does.

I watch the slow progress of education, the rapid advance of invention, the world wide expansion of commerce, the great fluctuation of wealth, and all of those ideas and devices which we call modern. But on this Fourth of July, there is one liberty we enjoy that now appears to be of much greater importance than all of these and to hold within its compass the sole possibility of one day attaining through understanding what has not yet been accomplished by force. I refer to the right of freedom of worship under the Constitution.

Of one thing I AM sure, Those men who have advanced civilization have been God fearing individuals. Those men who are bent upon the destruction of all of our system of Christian faith and ethics are decidedly NOT God fearing men.

Let us, above all things, retain this country a system under which men may be born and educated, to develop, not into Hitlers and Stalins, but into Washingtons and Lincolns. Those men were intimately acquainted with the Bible, and from it they absorbed a love of their fellowmen, and an ardent and sincere desire for the improvement of their condition—social, spiritual and economic—which is the sole foundation upon which to build any equitable and enduring new world order.

The Prince of Peace is no mere name,
With which we may conjure;
Until we take Him SERIOUSLY,
We've much more to endure

Country Printers Ignored Again?

Watch for all the campaign stationery and the campaign literature (except a few dodgers needed locally) in the impending campaign to bear the Union Label. God knows, we have nothing against the unions, but it does seem that the country printers and publishers receive a rotten deal when, while furnishing all the publicity and the ballaboo incident to a political campaign, and while they exaggerate the candidates' virtues and minimize their vices, they are ignored when the time comes for some paid printing to be done. A small set of union shops, concentrated largely in Jackson, get all the money and the country printers and publishers get all the honors (?) of giving free publicity to the candidates.

We cannot understand why the Mississippi Press Association does not take cognizance of this unfair situation, and does not do something about it.

The Grenada County Weekly serves notice now that it has lots of white space for sale, but it does not have any space to donate in boosting the virtues of any candidate who, when he needs printing, hurries to a union shop and never fails to give ALL his printing to this class of printers.

Who Remembers "The Favorite?"

In looking over a copy of Vardaman's Weekly dated June 2, 1921, we noted the following comment:

I have received a copy of The Favorite published in Grenada, Mississippi, edited by Mr. Tate Ring. The few copies I have seen shows very clearly that Mr. Ring is a man of literary accomplishments. I am in hopes that the people of Grenada will give the paper the support which it deserves. There is nothing more advantageous to a community than a good newspaper.

With The County Agent

Notice has been received from Secretary of Agriculture that farm families will be requested to donate all worn-out aluminum cooking utensils to help build more airplanes. Plans are being made to appoint committees in each community to collect this aluminum or farmers may bring it to the County Agricultural building.

Carried Mr. N. L. Douglas, State Plant Board Inspector to visit Mr. J. T. Gant's three acre cotton farm at Elliott. Mr. Gant believes he will make two bales of cotton per acre if he can stop the damage done by the boll weevil and flea hoppers.

The following farmers made the tour of Hereford Cattle Breeders in the Northern part of our State last week: W. H. Saunders, W. A. Winter, W. F. Martin, P. C. Wagner, C. E. Rhoft, H. H. Sims, E. C. Hayward, M. V. McCormick, Lorton Finney, F. R. Larson, and Supervisor L. P. Horton. Fine purebred herds were observed and a picnic lunch was enjoyed. It was noted that our state has just as good purebred herds as any state in the union.

NO HOUSE IS IMPOSSIBLE . . .

REPAIRS AND REMODELING ARE EASY AND INEXPENSIVE

HOUSES, LIKE PEOPLE, are as old as they look.

There is no reason why an 1898 house should still look like the "Bustle" period.

Architectural styles change frequently, conveniences are improved constantly, but the well-built old house need not bear the stamp of age.

Modernization, as we conceive this important activity, can make your house look like a 1940 home, no matter when it was built.

Costs are low too . . . and terms easy. Monthly payments you'll never miss can make your house look like a brand new home with all new-home conveniences.

Local and Social Activities

Mrs. W. W. Whitaker, Society Editor. Phones 83 and 747.

With summer holidays and vacations in full swing, entertainment of visitors and trips hither and yon are occupying the attention of Grenadians. Social activities include several lovely parties and luncheons honoring visitors and their hosts, starting on Monday and continuing through the week.

MRS. JACKSON HOSTESS

On Monday morning, Mrs. W. E. Jackson gave the first of a series of parties honoring her house guest, Mrs. Ledbetter, of Vicksburg, and Mrs. Lee, mother of Mrs. David Dubard, who is visiting here this week from Vance, Miss.

This charming home was bedecked with garden flowers, roses and daisies predominating in the many lovely arrangements. The lace draped table in the dining room was centered by a large bouquet of roses and a matching luncheon adorned the buffet.

A very elaborate menu of delicious food was served the guests as they were seated in the spacious living room.

MRS. DOAK HOSTESS AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. L. J. Doak's handsome home was the scene of a delightfully planned courtesy Bridge Luncheon on Tuesday given in honor of several visitors. The honor guests were Mrs. Cross, aunt of Mrs. Doak, who is here from Atlanta; Mrs. Ledbetter, of Vicksburg, guest of Mrs. Jackson, and two guests of Mrs. L. E. Noble, her aunt, Miss Kate Levell, of Houston, Texas, and her sister, Mrs. B. L. Rodwell, of Baton Rouge, La.

Mrs. Doak's home, which lends itself so beautifully to decoration, was further enhanced by the placing of pink and white gladioli at points of vantage. Arrangements of exquisite roses also added beauty and charm to the scene.

In the living room, the tables were arranged for games and later were draped for the serving of the three-course luncheon.

MRS. FISHER HOSTESS AT DELTA HOME

On Friday of last week, Mrs. J. P. Fisher, nee Pauline Doak, entertained at a beautifully planned luncheon, honoring Mrs. Cross, of Atlanta, who is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Doak. The hospitable home of the Fisher family in Jonestown was aglow with the beauty of three shades of lovely pink gladioli. The pink motif was delightfully emphasized in the table decoration and the serving of the luncheon menu. The honoree, Mrs. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Doak, Miss Doak and Mrs. John King attended from Grenada.

MRS. BURT ENTERTAINS

On Monday evening, Mrs. C. S. Burt entertained in honor of Mrs. L. E. Nobles, two popular guests, Mrs. B. L. Rodwell, of Baton Rouge and Miss Kate Levell, of Houston, Texas.

Mrs. Burt had arranged two tables in her attractive living room for the games. Lovely roses and gladioli were placed on occasional tables, lending beauty and charm to the setting.

In the games, Mrs. E. L. Morrow received high score award, a string of costume heads. The two honoree guests received lovely handkerchiefs.

Mrs. Burt served Sherbet and sandwiches.

Mrs. E. R. Burkley complimented Mrs. L. E. Noble and guests, Mrs. Rodwell and Miss Levell on Tuesday evening by taking them, also Mrs. E. L. Morrow to attend the presentation of "Mile Modiste" at Memphis Open Air Theatre, starring gifted Frances Greer, opera soprano. They returned home after the performance.

COCA-COLA PARTY FOR VISITOR

Mrs. Thomas Grant entertained with a Coca-Cola party Tuesday morning honoring her sister, Mrs. M. T. Liddleman, of Shelby, house guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Eddleman.

For this occasion, Mrs. Grant's lovely new home was aglow with exquisite gladioli and roses. Brilliant hues of red and white were used to a note of summer time atmosphere.

Mrs. Byron Hunter assisted Mrs. Grant in the dining room, presiding at the beautifully arranged tea table where dainty sandwiches, canapés, cookies and nuts were served with Coca-Cola.

BRIDE HONORED

Saturday afternoon between the hours of four and six, the home of Mrs. C. E. Lockett was thrown open to guests invited to greet Mrs. James (Russell) Lockett, a recent bride.

Mrs. Walter Garner received with the honoree, Miss Mabel Walker escorted the guests to the dining room where Miss Ruby Lockett, of Memphis, and Miss Elise Lockett, of Jackson, presided.

Mrs. C. E. Lockett and Mrs. Norfleet Craig greeted the guests in the dining room also.

The entire lower floor of this handsome home was most attractively decorated with gladioli and roses. The tea table in the dining room was especially attractive. The lace draped table was centered by a huge punch bowl and cups. Encircling the bowl was a lovely arrangement of red roses and broad leaf ferns. Punch was served with delicious sandwiches, cookies and salted nuts. Approximately 45 guests attended.

C. P. C. GROUP HAVE SOCIAL

The Church Periodic Club of All Saints Episcopal Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Harry Burkley at noon Monday, for a "Pot Luck" luncheon. As this was a social, no business matters were discussed. There were eight members present and after the luncheon the group enjoyed playing bridge during the afternoon.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

Burns Tatum certainly seems to be making good with the State Highway Patrol. We heard he had been promoted to a captaincy.

"Miss" Blanche Mattingly, one of our charter members left us a check for her renewal and we found it quite handy.

Burrow Horn, Jr. home for an operation, paid up for another year so that he can get the good news in Washington.

This wet spell is interfering with Fulton McRee's fishing activities. That it is also helping produce many boll weevils is a minor matter.

★ OFFICIALS ATTEST TO FACT THAT BEER IS AVAILABLE TO YOU IN INCREASINGLY WHOLESOME SURROUNDINGS

The proof of the pudding is in the eating thereof and proof of the results obtained by the Clean Up or Close Up program of the Brewers & Mississippi Distributors Committee is that beer is available to you in INCREASINGLY WHOLESOME surroundings.

This wholesome condition is attested to by city officials and law-enforcement officers. The following are typical expressions received by the Committee:

★ "Beer is now available in this city and county in surroundings that are steadily becoming increasingly WHOLESOME."

—FRANK K. HUGHES
Mayor, Corinth

★ "It is gratifying to see the ever increasing WHOLESOME conditions that now surround the sale of beer..."

—WILLIAM PROBST, Sheriff
Lowndes County, Mississippi

★ "Beer is sold in a WHOLESOME atmosphere in this community..."

—Chief of Police M. M. LITTLE
Hattiesburg, Mississippi

And, Beer—the beverage of moderation—is made from wholesome American farm products under rigid tests for purity and quality—and is now available in increasingly wholesome surroundings.

Beer provides employment to 11,000 Mississippians and, as a Mississippi industry, pays more than $1,000,000 a year in taxes.

You can help protect these important benefits by patronizing the WHOLESOME retail beer outlets in your community.

Better Health for Better Living

● The last three decades have brought many changes in matters pertaining to health. The normal span of life has been increased materially. Consider diabetes, for example. Diabetes was first recognized about the time of Moses, or 2000 years before the birth of King Tut. Yet, it was not until 1922 that a specific remedy was discovered. Today, through the use of Insulin and a balanced diet, the diabetic can reasonably expect to live about as long as anybody. Your physician will promptly recognize the symptoms of diabetes. He knows all about the treatment. And remember this, all advertised cures for diabetes are fakes. Don't be victimized by the swindlers.

Seen, Heard and Told By The Editor

We could not help but notice that there was a lot of water in the ocean this year.

While in Biloxi, the old lady and I went deep sea fishing and caught nothing. It must be against the rules to catch any fish while deep-sea fishing, as we never did catch any that way.

J. E. Corder, patent of another home company boy, is also a receiver of this newspaper, and we hope he and his family enjoy it.

They had Corporal Whitaker so stretched out last week that he could not get to his column which all the folks enjoy.

Mrs. Tutman is visiting her daughter in Athens, Ala. She is getting to be a regular gad about.

Brother C. L. Taylor has moved from wherever he was living to Valley, Mississippi, wherever that is.

Paw Todd is visiting his daughter in Tifton, Georgia. Hope the boys there let him into their ten cent poker games.

I have to stop myself every minute or two to keep from making some dirty dirt about this senatorial race, but I restrain myself manfully as I have quit fooling with politics and politics. My, me, what I could say if I would!

J. C. Dabney has been taken on probation into the Ferdinand Club. He may have to resign when John Bradley gets well.

If it does not stop raining let's get up a petition to Bilbo about it and get Red Bredise to OK it and send it to him.

We have failed to notice any of these young husky Congressmen who will soon send your boy and my boy into a bloody war, visiting and recruiting stations. They should be willing to take the medicine they prescribe for our boys. If nine-tenths of the Congressmen left Washington for the war, nobody would miss them.

With bad teeth giving one a passport of O.T. of war, the poor dentists are bound to suffer from lack of business.

I saw an old fellow without teeth eating parched peanuts on the bus the other night. I'll be denied if I can eat peanuts without my bureau-drawer teeth.

Dr. Moore Moore who cries for the GCW like a baby used to cry for Castoria sent in a check recently. The more Moore Moores we have the more it suits us.

Ed Provine has been added to the probation list.

Here Mr. Robby Sun. I tawked with yore black hared fren when I cum thru jaxon misipi sady over the tella fone.

Pvt. George C. Perry at Camp Wolters, Texas, starts getting the GCW with this issue. Hope Pete likes the army, for a fellow might as well like it. What's that poor gal in Jackson now going to do without the GCW, we wonder.

We have never seen crops so pretty and green. What the weevils will do nobody including the writer knoweth not.

Sam Yolles had to set out some extra plates Sunday as some of his folks from Winona were up to see him and his family.

Little Pric Horton did not come to spend the week-end in Grenada this week.

The sooner people begin to realize that this is no Pollyanna war, the better. America must spend blood and sweat and lots of it to preserve the freedom heretofore deemed so valuable.

You all kept Horn and Harry busy last Friday and Saturday. Do it again this incoming week-end. Help keep them out of devilment.

Just supposing: Grenada had no industries and just depended upon the proceeds of agriculture and then you could visualize how DEAD things would be.

Nobody killed out on 51 South Saturday night, fortunately.

Those farmers below Hattiesburg are breaking the rules as it looks like there is going to be some ears of corn on their corn stalks.

Some of those who have cussed Bilbo so vehemently now wish they had not done it, for Bilbo is sweet papa skelter in Mississippi now, if that's any glory for Mississippi.

Roy Bickerstaff, who is in the CCC camp near McComb, reports that he actually saw trout ending bread out of a young lady's hand in Percy Quinn lake near McComb. The young lady who was in bathing asked the life guard for a piece of bread. She held it about a foot under water and a bunch of trout, some of which were two pounders, swam up and ate the bread. His tale, not mine.

And they sweet.

Wonder when WGRM is going to get tired of the mosquitoes and move back to Grenada?

They say Brother Measels is preaching some fine sermons at the Central Baptist Church.

Brother Thrower had to kill an extra chicken Sunday as he had to feed the bishop.

William Bailey sent his subscription money by Fred, and it got here all right, but Fred forgot the message. We can use money better than messag-es anyway.

It will be but another week or so before the chapter members will have to kick in again. If all of them pay, as they usually do, we can get through August, the damndest month in the year.

The old lady and I spent two days down at Biloxi where nobody knows what time it is and nobody cares—last weekend. Down there they do not know there is a prohibition law in Mississippi, and do not seem to care. Like Tallahatchie county, they have local self government.

The old lady got lazified down on the Coast. As busy as we are, she stopped work and played bridge Monday afternoon with three other wimmen.

Russia and England have signed an agreement that neither will make a separate peace. So did France and England. We think that the United States and England have an iron-bound agreement also, if they have not already such an agreement. We might be left out on the limb.

Rebecca is spending a week visiting friends and relatives in Dallas, Texas. Mrs. Mims is pinching her.

Our "home company" boys are going on a 30-day maneuver in Louisiana soon, according to reports from Camp Blanding. It has been raining so much in Blanding that some of the boys are getting webs between their toes.

And they sweet.

Homer Williams has had to do some work since Fisher has been hospitalized.

We received a mighty nice letter from Mayor Chandler of Memphis Sunday.

Did we mention sometime ago that A. A. Henson was a GCW subscriber due to a gift from his son who is at Blanding?

Moers, C. O. Stewart and George Criss attended a farewell party for Ex-State Forrester Fred Merrill in and near Meridian last week-end. Merrill was shriveled and parched by the Johnson drought.

Tommie Hodge payed us an appreciated visit Saturday night. He liked those little fans that each of us have.

Judging from the Mt. Nebo correspondent's account of the celebration held in that community on the 4th of July, it must have been a humdinger.

This is one time that we are not going to curse our favorite senatorial candidate with our open support. I will do like a lot of them do: wait and see who wins, then say "that was my man."

Frank Gerard is still spending most of his waking hours fishing. He is worse than Bob Hall.

John Hill certainly keeps his car clean and nice.

It looks like the stork has about gone out of business.

Keene Hufington is taking his vacation. So is John.

Pvt. Jesse R. Marshall, Jr. of Camp Roberts, California, is a new subscriber. He is not to be confused with General Marshall, though we hope he will become a general in due course.

It must be a grand life, being a preacher.

Mrs. Jake threatened to stop the paper when she saw both Horn's and Harry's picture in one issue last week.

E. L. Fite, of Paynes, is a lamb returned to the fold.

Here And There

With Herbert B. Allen

ANNAPOLIS, MARYLAND

Veterans of the AEF will be interested to learn that the Navy is no longer using the fantastic methods of camouflage which were familiar sights in everything from field kitchens to battle ships in the first World War. Over the week-end Mrs. Allen and I were on a destroyer of the fleet. It was painted a very dark gray, not many shades lighter than black.

A lieutenant commander explained that this was the shade of gray adopted by the Royal Navy as affording the greatest protection against being sighted by scouting aircraft at sea. This destroyer had four banks of torpedo tubes, each bank having three tubes. Thus this destroyer could discharge twelve torpedoes simultaneously.

In view of the current heavy losses of merchant ships, by submarine attack, even when convoyed, it will interest readers of the GCW to learn something about the methods which navies employ in launching torpedo attacks.

There are many different types of torpedoes in use at the present time, some of which are even capable of being directed by radio, after they are in the water, and moving toward their target.

One imagines torpedoes being aimed singly at the vessels attacked. But this is not the usual practice. Groups of torpedoes are released at one time—usually four, or six. It can therefore be readily seen that the chance of successfully hitting the mark are greatly increased by this multiple release of torpedoes.

The destroyer we visited also carried a plane on its afterdeck. Of course there is no room for a catapult on a destroyer, BUT, there is a derrick at the bow which is used both to lower the plane into the water for the take-off, and to hoist it on board when it returns.

Those mechanically inclined, and those interested in aviation, have probably often wondered how naval planes

The Mississippi Farm and Home Week, held at State College, Miss., will be held July 30-31 and August 1. I hope many of the women and men of Grenada county will attend. Our chief speaker and guest of honor for this event will be Honorable Ruth Bryan Owen (Mrs. Borge Rohde) who will speak in the College Auditorium at 11:00 a. m. on Thursday, July 31, 1941. You will undoubtedly be interested in hearing Mrs. Rohde. Some personal history of Mrs. Rohde:

Ruth Bryan Owen (Mrs. Rohde) was born in Jacksonville, Illinois, daughter of William Jennings Bryan and Mary Baird Bryan. Her childhood environment was one of political campaigns and a close contact with public affairs.

During the World War she was jointly with Mr. Herbert Hoover, Secretary and Treasurer of the American Woman's War Relief Fund in London. Later in Egypt she served as a war nurse in the Voluntary Aid Detachment in the Egypt-Palestine Campaign at that little known but very significant sector of the war.

As a member of Congress was an ever colorful and amazingly effective figure. In the three years during which she served as American Minister to Denmark, she won a high place for herself in the esteem of the Danish people. For several years she served as a member of the Board of Regents of the University of Miami. She was also Vice-President of Regents and a member of the faculty. She holds honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws from Rollins College, and from University of Miami. She is the author of many text books used in many schools.

She is much in demand as a radio commentator, having had her own program, "It's News To Me" on the National Broadcasting Company's networks. Among her present activities in public service are the posts of Collaborator with the United States Travel Bureau, member of the Board of Advisors—Women's Federal Institution, Alderson, W. Va., member of the Adult Education Board, Columbia Broadcasting System; member of the Board of Regents, University of Miami; Advisor to the Social Science Department, Monticello, College.

A gifted speaker; an orator of world-wide fame and possessing a rare personal charm and magnetism, Mrs. Owens has been for the past ten years one of the most popular figures on the lecture platform. On account of the keen interest in America in the Scandinavian Cooperative Movement, Mrs. Owens is planning to discuss this subject on her next tour. With her intimate knowledge of the Scandinavian economic structure, she is particularly equipped for this task. Public attention is being focused today as never before upon Democracy—what it is, how it may be safeguarded. Mrs. Owens' lecture, "This Democracy of Ours" deals ably with this vital subject.

Mrs. Velma Neely, home demonstration agent hopes that as many people as possible attend the Farm and Home Week especially on this day, and hear this noted speaker. It will be worth your trip there, I am sure.

Velma Neely, H. D. A.

Pvt. Billy Horton of MacDill Field, Florida, spent part of his ten-day furlough with friends and relatives in Grenada last week.

manage to land on the relatively short decks of aircraft carriers. It is done very simply. As the plane levels off for the landing on the deck, it travels a short distance along the deck and then approaches a steel cable which is stretched across the runway about two feet above deck level.

The under carriage of naval planes is equipped with hooks which contact this heavy cable, and the ends of the cable are attached to heavy weights in the lower part of the aircraft carrier. As soon as the plane comes in contact with the cable its speed is slowed up, and the weights bring it to a stop.

If, in some unusual circumstances, a plane cannot be stopped by the usual method, there is a crash net into which it will plunge farther along the deck. Every plane is photographed at every landing, so that mishaps may be studied, and pilots may observe their errors of calculation.

On duty on the landing deck are men who calculate the conditions under which a pilot is landing, and if there appears to be any hazard, they flag him the signal to open his throttle straight ahead, and make another attempt to land from a more favorable position.

I wonder how many Grenadians know that we have a naval reserve of five in our city, Ensign Tommie Hodge, (Mr. Jackson's printer). When

What . . . makes the difference?

Anyone can tell at a glance when a summer dress is ironed by amateur hands. It takes more than a household iron to give a professional finish!

If you could visit the SPOTLESS DRY CLEANERS plant, you would see summer dresses passing from one piece of specialized equipment to another—from pressing machines to steam puffers, with electric steam irons for final touch-up.

Added to that equipment is skill—the "know-how"—the experience that tells which way to iron, how to restore shape, how to prevent stretching and shrinking. Knowledge and equipment makes the difference.

Today, the SPOTLESS charges so little for professional cleaning of summer dresses that home methods (over a hot ironing board) are as old-fashioned as baking bread at home.

My Column

Cpl. Whyte Whitaker Jr.

Soldiers are urged by the Postal Service to give the following information to correspondents of their address during maneuvers. Since many of the fellows of this battery have this paper represented in their parents homes, I will pass the proper address on down to them: 1. Grade of soldier, 2. First name, middle name, and last name, 3. Battery and regiment or similar unit numbers, 4. Army post office number (if known), 5. United States postoffice and state, C. Ragley, Louisiana. Thus a properly addressed letter would read: Pvt. John Doe, Hq. Btry, 1st Bn, 114th F. A. 31st Division, Ragley, La.

"Louisiana, Here We Come"—that is the battle cry of the Dixie Division's 19,000 men, now that the 12-day exercise which took them deep into the Ocala National Forest is a matter of history. Friday all day they streamed back into camp, their trek having proved their ability to do a hard job well.

On a battalion was requested to greet the 124th Infantry regiment as it passed along the road near our overnight area after they had completed a 20 mile march for that day. Occasionally you would see a Lieutenant carrying an enlisted man's pack, some non-com carrying one of his private's gun and vice versa. One soldier said every time he made a step he left three tracks. It's h— in the Infantry at times, after your canteen has been empty for several hours. Those of us who had full canteens traced them for empty ones with the faded and sweaty ones, we tried to pass out a little encouragement to them and offer our congratulations to the men whom we frankly admit catch it harder than we fellows who ride in trucks.

I was extremely fortunate and delighted to run across some "Rascals" here in Florida. Yes, Ole Miss Rebels—feminine mind you. Those about Grenada, who attend Ole Miss will fondly remember these beauties: Misses Dorothy Toney, Gertie Toney and Mary Ann Moore. The latter is visiting in the Toney summer home on the shores of Kinsley Lake. These girls have the fastest speed boat on the lake, a spacious pier from which to swim and true Southern hospitality. Wait more could Sgt. Vance, Sgt. Roane and I ask for.

During the 72-hour pass given all men of the 31st Division who desired them over the 4th of July some of the men visited their home towns while others stayed in Florida and visited Daytona Beach, Jacksonville Beach, Ocala, Silver Springs and other points of interest. A million dollars was turned loose in the wilds of Ocala National Forest and most of it was spent

NEWS AND VIEWS OF THE YOUNGER SET

By The Three Listen-ers

Margaret Louise Harvey, of Tupelo and Ole Miss, spent the last week-end here in the City Beautiful. Everywhere we saw her she was with Ed Morgan. Speaking of Ed, he is planning a trip out to New Mexico.

Cliff Bailey journeyed to Batesville Friday night to see certain little brunette. We have gathered from reliable facts that her name is Ann Powell.

Lt. Margaret Green, Margaret Green, Spain, and Jean Scott are back from camp. One of these four lassies said that she hadn't had on a pair of shoes for three weeks. Doesn't that sound like Lil?

Mary Lou Cullen has had as her house guest, Miss "Teensy" Johnson from Houston. She was at the show Friday night with E. Morgan.

The latest news on Bryan Baker: (censored).

"Poor" Keeton: Says how about going riding to-night?
She: I'm sorry but I don't think I can get my car.

Little Miss Marian King, of Memphis, is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. John King, this week.

Everything seems to have quieted down a little more after the Fourth of July week. The most sensational thing that did happen occurred Tuesday night at the Grand Theatre when Lil York came in with her dashing escort, Count Demolition Pleasants. (The person you think thought this up merely had nothing to do with this little write up).

In the neighboring towns. In some instances the children took advantage of the soldiers. Several of us searching for a room at Jacksonville Beach were rather surprised to find rooms extremely high. A room without a bath was priced at $25.00, we finally found one for $18.00. Maybe such prices aren't too high for a fellow with plenty of money but a soldier has to dig deep and think hard before either paying or staying out in the mile.

Truly it is a gratifying feeling to witness how warmly the church people greet the men in uniform when they attend church services. Several Sundays gone by I attended services at the Episcopal Church in St. Augustine. An elderly lady came over and sat by me and we struggled through the several hymns from the song book she had. After services she invited me out to dinner although it was impossible for me to accept it made me feel mighty good anyway.

In the minds of many here it is seriously doubted whether we will go to Louisiana on maneuvers at all this summer. Something is in the air.

What is the soldier population of Camp Blanding? The question can now be answered, officially. There are 50,000 men in camp. Blanding is exceeded in the South only by Fort Bragg, N. C., which has a population of 60,000.

Iceland, Greenland and Alaska are too cold, while Panama, South America and Hawaii are too hot and it is said that the average American gets tired of the English accent, anyway the Germans are playing a little too rough so there is no place in Europe which I'd like to spend my time. I'll take Florida even though one gets an increase in pay after he leaves the continental United States.

LOCALS
Miss Joyce Neely is visiting her aunts in Holly Springs.

Nowell Estes returned first of week after several weeks visit with his grandmother, Mrs. Joe Stevens in Jackson.

Lida Estes came down from Memphis to spend last week-end with her parents at The Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Clanton spent Wednesday of last week in Memphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Wagner and son spent 4th of July holidays with their mother, Mrs. Susie Wagner.

On Sunday afternoon Anne Duncan, Mary Lou Cullen, and her visitor, Miss "Teensy" Johnson from Houston took a trip to the delta.

Speaking of trips, Billie Semmes and Johnny Keeton were New Orleans bound about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning. They got as far as Duck Hill and decided that home was a sweet place anyway.

We are just curious to know why four little next-years sophomores left the show Tuesday night.

Grace Smith hailed back in town last Friday. She's looking fine. We truly believe that the North agrees with her. Now there is another happy Lockett.

Cliff Bailey has been making regular trips to Batesville. It couldn't be Anne—or could it?

She: Gee, I'm hungry.
Poor: You want a hamburger?
She: But I don't have any money.
Poor: Well, why did you mention it?

We are glad to see Barney Echols and Fred Thelmsen back in town from Camp Blanding.

Evelyn King from Water Valley, is visiting in Grenada this week. She has been seen around with her good friend, Jean Geeslin.

Dick Jones is back in town. She's been visiting friends all over South Mississippi.

Oliver Lilly's place certainly is a beehive of activity.

Rob Brown is doing mighty big business with his huge tank trucks hauling petroleum products.

Mrs. John Shepard, of Mobile, who visited in the home of her brother, Mr. H. D. Lane for ten days, returned to her home early this week. While here Mrs. Shepard was honored guest at several lovely social affairs.

Miss Bess Wood enjoyed a vacation trip and a visit in Laurel this week.

Mr. Frank Horton, Mrs. Hurd Horton and daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth also Mr. Harry Adams went to Memphis Wednesday to be at the bedside of their brother and uncle, Mr. Frank Collins, who underwent an operation in Baptist Hospital.

SCOBY NEWS

Mrs. Bert Neal, daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. James Shelton and Mitzel, of Winona, spent awhile with their sister-in-law and aunt, Mrs. L. B. Carr and family last Tuesday morning. They were on their way to Charleston to visit another daughter and sister, Mrs. Julius Robertson.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hudson and son, Paul Jr., of Little Rock, Ark. are here visiting Mrs. Hudson's father, Mr. J. E. Johnson.

Mrs. Sarah Robinson, of Memphis, is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Alice Duke.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Bell and little daughter, of Batesville, spent a few minutes Sunday afternoon with their cousin, Mr. L. B. Carr and family. They had spent the day with their mother, Mrs. Carle Bell near Grenada.

Mrs. Rosa Percy and granddaughter, Betty Ann McLemore, of Jackson, Tenn., Mrs. Johnnie Constantine and little son, of Grenada, spent last week with their daughter, aunt and mother, Mrs. Robert Jennings.

Messrs. G. E. Carr, of Chicago, and Sell Jennings, of Baltimore, Md., spent the week-end in the Delta visiting relatives.

Mrs. Dever and little grandson, Billy Rex, of Stuttgart, Ark., arrived last Thursday night to spend awhile with their son and uncle, Mr. Robert Dever and family.
